IN YOUR COMMUNITY: JOBS AUTOS REAL ESTATE RENTALS CLASSIFIEDS OBITUARIES FIND&SAVE PLACE AN AD

LOCAL BUSINESSES

NEWS LOCALNEWS BUSINESS SPORTS H.S. SPORTS ENTERTAINMENT

Real Estate Workplace Energy Consumer Affairs Personal Finance Health Industry Banking News More

Foundation work on 243-unit Flats East Barapartment building could start within week

A rendering shows the planned 243-unit apartment building at the Flats East Bank project in downtown Cleveland. The first floor of the building would house restaurants and other businesses -- though probably not traditional retailers -- in 10 to 15 spaces. Parking for residents would be tucked into the second floor. The developers have applied for a building permit for foundation work, and they expect to close a financing deal soon. (Dimit Architects)

Print (http://blog.cleveland.com/business_impact/print.html?entry=/2014/01/foundation_work_on_243-unit_fl.html)

 $(http://connect.cleveland.com/staff/mjarboe/index.html) \ By \ Michelle \ Jarboe \ McFee, \ The \ Plain \ Dealer \ (http://connect.cleveland.com/staff/mjarboe/posts.html)$

Email the author | Follow on Twitter (http://twitter.com/mjarboe)

on January 17, 2014 at 11:30 AM, updated January 18, 2014 at 7:54 AM

CLEVELAND, Ohio -- The developers behind the Flats East Bank (http://www.flatseast.com/) project expect to break ground within weeks on their first residential building, the centerpiece of the waterfront neighborhood's second phase.

The Cleveland City Planning Commission and a downtown-focused design review committee gave the thumbs-up this week to the footprint for an eight-story, 243-unit

Business Featu:

North busin

(http://www.c /events/index /business/28

North com m news

(http://www.c /business/inc /index.html)

Scam your com n

(http://www.c /scam finder)

TopWorkplaces

(http://www.clevelar

Bestplaces to

1 of 16

2/26/2014 9:28 PM

apartment building facing the Cuyahoga River. The Wolstein Group and Fairmount Properties have applied for a building permit for the foundation and needed the commission's approval before the city would sign off.

Adam Fishman of Fairmount, which is developing the project with Scott and Iris Wolstein, said the team is on the verge of closing on financing for phase two. Fishman wouldn't discuss the details, but the final package is sure to include a blend of public and private money.

The $275 million first phase of the Flats project sits east of West 10th Street and comprises the Ernst & Young Tower, an Aloft hotel, a fitness center, restaurants and a parking garage. The second phase will be anchored by the large, curving apartment building, where six residential floors will perch atop 10 to 15 ground-floor restaurants (http://www.cleveland.com/dining/index.ssf/2013/09 /new_crop_bistro_spinoffs_plann.html) and businesses and largely concealed second-story parking.

Phase two plans also show a handful of freestanding restaurants and entertainment venues

View full size (http://media.cleveland.com/business_impact/photo/-0a8a2789039d0520.jpg)

An elevation plan shows the riverfront face of the planned apartment building at the Flats East Bank project in downtown Cleveland.

Dimit Architects

(http://www.cleveland.com/business/index.ssf/2012/04 /flats_east_bank_project_lines.html), including Panini's and Toby Keith's I Love This Bar & Grill. Those buildings, and a long-discussed riverfront boardwalk, would open by June 2015.

A second, lower-rise office building north of Front Street would lag the apartments, with financing that hinges on pre-leasing. Fishman would not identify potential office tenants, but he said the building might range from 130,000 to 175,000 square feet.

"We've just finished leasing 425,000 square feet in a location where many said we couldn't lease a single square foot," Fishman said of the swift movement of office tenants (http://www.cleveland.com/business/index.ssf/2013/10/flats_east_bank_developers_ref.html) to the E&Y Tower. "We're extraordinarily bullish on our prospects."

http://www.c/top-workpla

Read about the best Ohio for 2013 and no Top Workplaces 201 (http://www.clevelai

Trending \

Target Data I Compan

MostCom ment

Current NFL sta vou\_want to win (http://cleveland /browns/index.s /index\_sst /current\_starting  $^{\prime}2014/02$  comments) /current staftin com m ents) D'Qwell Jackson Browns (http://c (http://gleve.lang /browns /dowell\_jackson /index.sst comments) /2014/ jackson pank head i /daw ell after her rejectic (http://cleveland /business /2014/02 /index\_sst /job\_bank\_head / job bank head com m ents)
Cleveland Brow photo of Mike La http://clevelanc /browns/index.s /index_sst /mike_lombardi /2014//02

Don Frantz, a consultant working with the developers, said the apartment floor plans call for 175 one-bedroom units, 61 two-bedroom units and seven three-bedroom units. Fishman would not provide specific rent figures but said the building will charge rates "near the high end" of the market.

A small portion of the building -- less than 20 percent -- could be corporate suites, which companies rent to house traveling executives or short-term hires.

The building would hold 246 parking spaces, all reserved for residents. The project already includes several public-parking areas, in the phase one garage or on surface lots, and sits next to the Greater Cleveland Regional Transit Authority's waterfront rail line.

Frantz and representatives from Dimit Architects showed a few renderings at public meetings this week, but they cautioned that elements of the design still might change. One high-profile feature stood out: Large "Flats East Bank" lettering, on top of the apartment building, modeled on iconic displays like the Domino Sugars sign in Baltimore.

"This is a high-quality project," said Jack Bialosky, Jr., an architect and member of the downtown design review committee. "It's everything that we want to come here. That it has a sandwich of retail, then parking, then residential makes it extraordinarily difficult to accomplish. And it looks great to me."

/m ikeolomentsardi com m ents)

2014 NFL Post-C
Browns get a que (http://cleveland/brow/2014/02/2014_n/2014/02/2014_n/2014_02/2014_n

Business your inbo

Sign up to get our busin Mon.-Fri.

Submit

Check here if you do not offers and information.

(//www.pinterest.com/pin/create/button/?url=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.cleveland.com%2FFbuGME ឯប៉ុរំ2FFbuGM

Related Stories

(http://www.cleveland.com/business/index.ssf/2013/11/zashin_rich_law_firm_leases_la.html)
Zashin&Rich law firm leases_lastfull floorofEmst&YoungToweratFlatsEast
Bank project (http://www.cleveland.com/business/index.ssf/2013/11/zashin_rich_law_firm_leases_la.html)

(http://www.cleveland.com/open/index.ssf/2013/11/state_awards_3_million_grant_fhtml)
State awards$3 million grant forcleanupwork at Flats East Bank projectsite
(http://www.cleveland.com/open/index.ssf/2013/11/state_awards_3_million_grant_fhtml)

Sign in with your cleveland.com, Facebook or Google account or sign up (https://signup.cleveland.com/register/?return_to=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.cleveland.com%2Fbusiness%2Findex.ssf%2F2014%2F01%2Ffoundation_work_on_243-unit_fl.html%23comments)

3 of 16 2/26/2014 9:28 PM